ROMANTIC STORY OF MURDERESS AND HER ACCOMPLICES

Countess Tarnowska, Her Lawyer Lover and Her
Other Suitors

Sentenced For Crime of Killing the Count.

NOTABLE TRIAL IN EUROPE.

Venice, May 21. (United Press).—Countess Maria Tarnowska and her accomplices, Lawyer Prilukoff and Dr. Nikolaus Naumoff, convicted for the murder of the countess's husband, will petition for a new trial. The countess was sentenced to six years, Prilukoff to eight and Naumoff to six. Countess Tarnowska is in a serious condition as the result of the long and dramatic trial.

The trial of Countess Tarnowska and her companions has been in progress for weeks and attracted more attention than any case of the kind in Italy's criminal history. The Duke of Abruzzi, Mme. Helene, the actress, and d'Annunzio, the writer, are only a few of the celebrities that visited the court room to hear the progress of the case.

Of the four prisoners, Countess Maria Tarnowska, though only charged with instigating the murder of Count Paul Kamarowsky two and a half years ago, attracted by far the most attention. Next to her the most conspicuous figure in the case was Dr. Naumoff, the youth of 21, who admits having fired the fatal shot. Nicholas Prilukoff, a lawyer, and Elias Perrier, the countess's maid, were accused as accessories.

The Countess Tarnowska, Naumoff and Prilukoff are Russians, as was Count Kamarowsky. Perrier, the maid, is a French woman.

A Romantic Story.
The story of the events leading up to Count Kamarowsky's murder practically begins with Maria Nikolaevna's clandestine marriage, at the age of 19, to Count Vasili Tarnowska, a disreputable young nobleman of Moscow.

The Tarnowskis were most unhappy together. The countess says her husband ill-treated her grossly. She deliberately tried to excite his jealousy, hoping to rid herself of him. She succeeded so well that the count finally shot and killed one of her admirers named Horzevski. Finally he began divorce proceedings against her.

The countess placed her case in Prilukoff's hands. He does not seem to have been particularly attracted by her at first. The countess resolved to attract him to her train of suitors. She succeeded. Prilukoff was a man of ability, education and standing, had a wife and children and earned a large income from his profession, but he abandoned everything to follow La Tarnowska, as she was generally called. Neglect of his business caused him heavy losses and, to satisfy the financial demands made upon him by the woman he loved, he embezzled large sums from his clients.

In the course of a European tour the two were taking together the countess at length met in Paris an old acquaintance, Count Kamarowsky, for whom she practically threw Prilukoff over, partly perhaps for variety, partly because the count was a rich man and Prilukoff nearly at the end of his resources.

Kamarowsky accepted La Tarnowska's invitation to return to Russia with her and together they visited many Moscow cities. At that time the count introduced his companion to his warm friend, Dr. Naumoff, who in his turn fell madly in love with her.

For some time the countess divided her time between Kamarowsky and Naumoff. The latter was almost insane over her. He even submitted to physical torture at her hands, allowing her to thrust darts into his flesh and to extinguish her cigarettes by pressing the burning ends against his hands because, as she said, she loved him more when she saw him suffering.

At last the count made a will in which he left his fortune to La Tarnowska. His life was also insured in her favor for $100,000. He wanted her to marry him, but, as no divorce had yet been secured by Count Tarnowska, this was impossible.

But a short time before Kamarowsky was killed the countess made a fresh bid for Prilukoff's affections. She summoned him to her in Berlin and he came. Soon he was again completely under her influence. The countess told him that Kamarowsky and Naumoff were

Royalty Rushes to Meet American and Edward is Forgotten in Their Eagerness to Listen to His Views

Roosevelt Principal Figure at Luncheon Given by King
George Yesterday.—Jews
Expelled.

London, May 21.—Not till today was it learned the important part Roosevelt played at the royal luncheon of George at Windsor yesterday. It was attended by the king and princess. The royal representatives and all attending admit that Roosevelt was the dominating figure. Royalties who had not yet been presented crowded about the American, eager for the introduction. They begged him to learn his views on European politics. The questions lasted for more than an hour. The assembly became so interested in the colonel that the note of sorrow over Edward's burial was lost.

The Roosevelt today are at the country home of Ambassador Held.

Prince Born Dead.
Madrid, May 21.—Queen Victoria of Spain underwent an accouchement today, a boy being born dead. The queen's condition is poor. The accouchement was unlooked for. Alfonso is hurrying to Madrid on a special train.

40,000 Jews Expelled.
Berlin, May 21.—Reports today say 40,000 Jews have been driven from Kaff and a like number from Moscow. The total expulsions are estimated at 100,000. In a majority of cases the authorities expelled children, taking babies from their mothers and leaving parents the choice of abandoning their homes or their children. Naturally the fellow into exile. Thousands will emigrate to America.

CHARLES STANFIELD
DIES OF LONG ILLNESS.

Mr. Charles Stanfield, 64 years old, a well known building contractor, died at 11:30 o'clock this morning at his home, 1526 Langston street, after a several months' illness of dropsy. He came here two years ago from Morgantown, and the body will be shipped there at 11:20 o'clock tomorrow morning for burial. He was a member of the North Twelfth street Baptist church. Surviving him are his wife and two sons, Messrs. S. C. Stanfield, of Fulton, and J. N. Stanfield, of Paducah.

NEW PARSONAGE BOUGHT BY GERMAN LUTHERANS

The trustees of the German Lutheran church, on South Fourth street, have purchased the frame residence at the southeast corner of Fourth and Clark streets, and it will be utilized as a parsonage. The pastor, the Rev. William Gruther, is occupying the parsonage now. Before the church was remodeled the parsonage was in the rear of the building, but last summer when reconstructed the auditorium of the church was enlarged.

County Graduates to Hear Baccalaureate

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the county high school and the county graded schools will be delivered tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Lone Oak. The sermon will be delivered in the Lone Oak Methodist church by the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. His subject will be "The Spirit of the Present Age." The baccalaureate sermon will be the inauguration of the commencement week. Next Friday the commencement exercises will be held in Lone Oak.

There are two graduates from the county high school, the first graduating class, and 49 members of the class from the common schools. Miss Anna Frazier and Hyon Kirkpatrick are the graduates of the high school. The other graduates are: January class—Nola Adams, Lizzie Anderson, Gladys Anderson, Bettie Adams, Henry Biehn, Hortense Hiehn, Will Donnell, Nola Donnell, R. E. Fisher.

THE WEATHER

The predictions and temperatures for the past twenty-four hours will be found at the top of the seventh column on page four.

BOY FEUDIST.

Meadville, Miss., May 21.—Willie Lott, 11 years old, was arrested today, charged with the murder of Edgar Newman, 12 years old. Authorities say the shooting of the Newman boy was the result of a feud between the Prilukoff and Newman families. The Lotts are friendly to the Prilukoffs. Sheriff Jones said he learned the Lott boy several days ago vowed he would kill Newman on his last opportunity.

BANK CLEARINGS AND BUSINESS

IT WAS GOOD WEEK IN ALL LINES—BUILDING TRADES
LIVELY.

Bank clearings this week were $719,175.

Due to the pleasant weather there was a gratifying increase in business of all lines this week. The bank clearings reach large figures as evidence of a splendid business. Retail trade has shown the effect of pleasant weather by the large number of shoppers who have been out in force.

In building lines the awarding of the contract for the construction of the new bank building by the First National bank was pleasant news. The new building will improve the appearance of the business district, and will give employment to a large force of men all summer. At present there is a large amount of construction work in progress.

The Lack Machine Iron company purchased the Brown Manufacturing company of Itasca, Wis., and will remove the plant to Paducah. It is expected that the plant will be ready for operation soon after June 1.

CEMETERY RULES WILL BE CONSPICUOUSLY SEEN.

The contract for the placing of a large sign containing rules governing Oak Grove cemetery, at the left hand of the Trimble street entrance, was awarded to Contractor J. W. Lockwood last night by the cemetery committee of the general council. His bid was $23.50. It was ordered that that section of the cemetery ordinance regulating the sale and transfer of lots be printed on the board in reasonably large letters. The controversy over a lot in the cemetery by the heirs of Sardi Moss was referred to City Solicitor Campbell. The committee failed to ratify the request of Ben Maynard to transfer one-fourth of his lot to J. H. Turner. Mrs. Pauline Rice was refused permission to run a water pipe to her lot. Members present at the meeting were: Ochsenschlager, Hank, Hannin, Horton and Lasky.

RELATIVE OF WILKINS SAVES IT IS NOT HIS BODY.

Another clue to the possible identity of the murdered boy found April 10 apparently has vanished. Architect Charles Lassiter, who is a cousin of Wit Wilkins, of Lynn Grove, Calhoun county, says he viewed the body of the murdered boy, and knows positively that the boy was not Wilkins. "There was only a slight resemblance of the features of the dead boy with those of my cousin Wit Wilkins," said Mr. Lassiter today. "However, it seems impossible to convince Mr. Wilkins that the body is not that of his son. I have received several letters and pictures from Wilkins' father, who is almost crazed with grief over the absence of his boy."

MADRIZ ORDERED TOWN FIRED ON

COMMANDER OF VENUS TOLD TO DISREGARD AMERICAN PROTEST.

Colon, May 21.—It was learned today that in the exchange of messages between President Madrid and General Arias, commanding the steamer Venus, the latter was ordered to bombard Bluefields, irrespective of orders of the American officials. The Venus is said to be en route to Bluefields from Greytown, where she went when driven away by the United States gunboat Paducah.

CITY'S FINANCES WILL BE DRAINED TO CARE FOR ALL

Unanticipated Extra Expense
Which Calls For Large Amount.

Deficit Probably Will Result
This Year.

HOW THE BOOKS NOW STAND.

Indications are now that Paducah will not quit this year with a balance, and it is scarcely probable that the city will get through the fiscal year, ending January 1, without a deficit. This situation is caused by the appropriations made for enterprises not anticipated at the beginning of the year and not provided for by the budget, which stretched the limit of possible income to take care of all its provisions.

A short loan probably will be necessary to carry the city through the June payroll until taxes begin coming in; but that is not the worst of it.

The financial situation to May 16 was about this: The estimate of expenses and income for the year 1910 was $208,060, of which $100,542.34 have been collected, leaving a balance to be collected of $207,517.66. It is estimated that the city may by close work collect $206,440, though chances by reason of unavoidable delays in collecting them, may fall off, and reduce this amount. The actual expended appropriation for all departments is $202,618.07, with some departments already overdrawn slightly in taking care of unavoidable and unexpected contingencies, leaving the narrow margin of less than $4,000 between the extreme possibility of collections and the least possible expenditures by the departments.

Upon this showing it would not be difficult for the city to get through the year with current expenses; but when the following list of additional undertakings of the general council.

MILLER DROVE WAGON IN CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Manuel Miller, colored, of Clarksville, Tenn., who escaped from the county jail six hours after he was lodged inside to await the arrival of Chief of Police J. E. Robinson, of Clarksville, was recaptured last night and this morning Chief Robinson left for home with his prisoner, who will face a charge of grand larceny.

Miller was employed as a driver for the M. C. Northington Grocery company at Clarksville and is accused of stealing hams, sugar and other goods and carrying them to a restaurant across the street, where he sold them and pocketed the money.

CHAMP CLARK ON THE COMMISSION

Washington, May 21.—Champion Clark sounded the Democratic keynote for this year's campaign in the house today. Clark declared the proposal to appropriate $250,000 per annum to the support of the tariff commission was a motion to postpone the verdict of the public on the tariff to a time more convenient for the standpatners. He said: "It is another effort, though desperate, to hoodwink the voters. The creation of such a commission would be an illustration of how far the legislative branch government has surrendered its constitutional rights to the executive."

He declared every new office added to the power of the executive, he predicted, a sweeping Democratic victory in November, shouting, "Up guards and at them!"

Clark said, "It matters not whether the executive operates with the big stick or a smile, the power of Congress steadily dwindles. Some men are so constituted their courage oozes out as soon as they come into the presence of a president. At the present rate of growth of the executive power it won't be long until an American Cromwell may walk into this chamber, and roar out his command as it was heard in the British house of commons 260 years ago. 'Away with the bauble!'"

COUNTY DECLARES THAT PURPOSE IS ONLY DELAY

A statement that the appeal of W. A. Thompson, ousted keeper of the county almshouse, vs. the fiscal court of McCracken county, was solely for the purpose of delay, was filed this morning in circuit court by County Attorney Sanders E. Clay. He asks that the circuit court affirm the judgment of the fiscal court in declaring the office of county almshouse keeper vacant.

McCracken County Assessment is Increased Ten Per Cent Instead of Twenty-Five Per Cent by Board

Will Add Nearly $10,000 to County Revenues and Will Make Assessment Close to Million and Half Larger.

Frankfort, Ky., May 21.—(Special).—The state board of equalization in its final action increased the assessment of McCracken 10 per cent, Fulton five, Graves and Marshall 15, Hickman 20, and Ballard and Carlisle 25 per cent. The first raise of McCracken was 25, but a committee protested before the board and 15 per cent was taken off. This increases McCracken's assessment from approximately $14,300,000, and increasing the county revenue about $9,000.

Lincoln Institute Wins.

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—(Special).—Judge Shackelford handed down a decision, holding unconstitutional the Holland law, prohibiting the operation of an industrial school in any voting precinct without the consent of a majority of the voters in the precinct. The bill was aimed at the Lincoln Institute in Shelby county.

Anna Couple Married Here.

Miss Addie McClain and John Dillon, a couple from Anna, Ill., were married today at noon at the court house by County Judge Allen W. Harkley. The couple were married in the office of County Clerk Gus G. Singleton. The couple came to Paducah this morning from Anna, Ill., for a quiet wedding and will return this evening.

New York, May 21.—America's representatives to appear before the International Arbitration Tribunal at The Hague in the Newfoundland fisheries case called today on the liner Lapland. The court convenes June 1. The delegation consists of Senator Root, as chief counsel; Chandler Anderson, J. Turner, of Spokane; Samuel Elder, of Boston; James Scott, of the state department; Charles Warren, of Detroit; and Robert Lansing, of Watertown. Judge Gray, of Delaware, will act as judge on the tribunal. England is to send distinguished lawyers. The case is a century old.

No Melon.

James A. Patton, at dinner on the Mauretania, said, as the fruit was served: "The English call the fruit course the desert. Our desert—pudding or tart—they call the sweet strange difference."

"Another difference is the cantaloupe, which the English call the melon. This English cantaloupe, or melon as they say, is like ours in taste, but instead of a rough skin, it has a pale, very-colored, quite smooth skin. There's a story about that."

"A head-headed fellow at an English dinner party dropped his napkin, and bending down to pick it up, his head joggled the bare arm of the duchess at his right."

"The duchess, feeling the slight touch on her arm, turned and put up her forefinger. She saw, level with her elbow, the bishop's pate, and she said: "No, thank you; no melon. I will take pineapple, please." (Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Trade Between the United States and Panama.

Trade between the United States and the republic of Panama will exceed $22,000,000 in the fiscal year which ends next month, and for seven years since the republic of Panama came into existence will approximate $100,000,000. About nine-tenths of this total, speaking in very round terms, is merchandise exported from the United States to Panama and about one-tenth merchandise imported into the country from that republic. Even these figures do not show the grand total of merchandise sent from the United States to Panama during that period, since much

Worms

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a tape worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Fick of Milwaukee. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. Use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood."—Chas. E. Condon, Lewistown, Pa. (Milwaukee Co.)

portion of the supplies for the Panama canal and those engaged in its construction as were sent from time to time upon government vessels were not included in the figures reaching the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, by which this statement of trade with Panama is reported. Just what proportion of the merchandise sent to Panama has been for use in the construction of the canal cannot be definitely determined, though the British minister at Panama recently estimated that about one-fifth of the total imports of the republic were for the commissaries of the canal zone, approximately two-fifths for canal supplies, and the remaining two-fifths for general use.

Why Cough

Ask your doctor if all coughs are necessary. If not, then why cough? Ask him about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Stop coughing! Coughing rasps and tears. Stop it! Coughing prepares the throat and lungs for more trouble. Stop it! There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing. Stop it! Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a regular doctor's medicine for coughs and colds.

A STREET SONG.

Drumbeat? No; what's the good?
If it averted I would;
But it doesn't a bit—

Laugh? Yes; why not?
'Tis better than crying a lot;
We were made to be glad,
Not sad.

Sing? Why, yes, to be sure;
We shall better endure
If the heart's full of song
All day long.

Love? Yes; unceasingly, Ever increasingly,
Their sorrows sharing,
Their happiness making;
For pattern taking
The One above,
Who is Love.

Pretty Afternoon Party in Arcadia.

The house is charming with a profusion of flowers in a color motif of white and green. The salad and ice courses prettily emphasize these colors.

The 24 guests are limited to the members of the Thine Luke club and the Sewing society.

King Rene's Daughter.

The Matinee Musical club is arranging an attractive evening entertainment for the coming week. The cantata "King Rene's Daughter," will be presented by some of the most notable musical talent of the city on Thursday evening at the Woman's club house. Miss Nowell will direct the music and Miss Lula Reed is the accompanist.

"King Rene's Daughter" is a cantata for women's voices and the story is freely adapted from Henrik Hertz's drama: "Iolanthe," daughter of King Rene, Count of Provence—has been betrothed in infancy to the son of the Count of Valentignen. Stricken with blindness when but a year old, she has been reared with all knowledge of the faculty of sight withheld from her. A magician has promised to restore her sight by means of an amulet he has given her, on condition that she is first informed of the missing amulet. The king has refused permission. Iolanthe's betrothed, wandering as a troubadour, lights upon her abode in a valley of Vaudouze. Without knowing her— for a terrible feud has kept their lives apart—the troubadour knight is entranced by her beauty. He does not know that she is blind, and his words reveal to her the faculty of which she has been kept in ignorance. She thus unwittingly aids the magician's art and Iolanthe is restored to sight.

The character of Iolanthe will be taken by Mrs. Lula Reed, while Mrs. Mary Jane Broadshaw, assisted by Mrs. James Wells. The other singers are: First soprano—Mrs. W. O. Gray, Miss Rogers, Miss Marjorie Lovick; second soprano—Miss Louisa Puryear, Miss Nella Hatfield, Miss Anna Hill, Miss Jones, Miss Mrs. King, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Dickerson.

The story is beautifully told in a number of recitatives, arias, duets and quartets. The music is most charming.

There will be no admission charged but a free will offering will be made at the door. The club wishes to realize enough to pay for their music.

The final meeting of the Matinee Musical club will be on Wednesday, June 1, in the afternoon. It will be an open meeting of the club. A 2-piano recital program will be rendered.

Gladness.

If you have a word of cheer,
Speak it where the sad may hear;
'Tis a coin a thought of light;
Give it wings and speed its flight;
Do you know a lulling song?
Pass the roundelay along;
Sister gladness, joy and mirth
All along the ways of earth.

Kentucky Club-Women at Frankfort.

The Kentucky Federation of Woman's clubs will meet in annual session at Frankfort, May 24-27. The fact that the meeting is at the state capital makes it an occasion of noteworthy interest and every energy is being put forth to give the visitors a reception replete with Kentucky hospitality. Frankfort is such a quaint and historic place and will lend itself readily as a setting of interest. In addition to the comprehensive program, a number of delightful social affairs have been planned. Some of the leading events on the calendar are:

May 21—Boat excursion up the river at seven o'clock to the members of the Federation by the Business Men's club.

May 25—Formal opening of the Federation at ten o'clock in the Christian church.

May 26—Unveiling of the restored Daniel Boone monument by the Rebecca Bryan Boone chapter D. A. R. of Newport.

tion with a tea at the Maunson at five o'clock.

May 27—Reception to the members of the Federation at the New Capitol from eight until ten.

A also collection was realized and many names given for application for membership to the league.

Miss Smith's Recital.

The Caldwell County News, Princeton, of Thursday says of a gifted young woman who is widely popular here:

"None can fail to appreciate the versatility of talent of Miss Anna Florence Smith, of the college. She displays equal skill in music and elocution. This was manifested at her rendition of the sad story of Enoch Arden on last Friday evening, when many of the house were in tears and listened spell-bound to the charms of her voice, assisted by Miss Akia on the piano, who proved herself an accomplished musician in her skill in interpreting the music of Strauss to suit every emotion of the reading. This was the third of the series of interluncheon given by Miss Smith. The next and last, in June, will be looked forward to by all lovers of music and elocution."

Biennial Officers.

The National Federation of Women's Clubs, which has been in session during the past week at Cincinnati, elected officers as follows:

President—Mrs. Philip N. Moore, Missouri.

First Vice President—Mrs. Josiah Evans, Iowa, Cal.

Second Vice President—Mrs. Mary Bell King, Sherman, Illinois.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Henry H. Dawson, New Jersey.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Frank Shick, Wyoming.

Treasurer—Mrs. John Throckmold, Oklahoma.

Auditor—Mrs. L. J. Haukenburg, Pennsylvania.

Directors—Miss Beulah Brocklebridge, Kentucky; Mrs. Elmer H. New York; Mrs. John A. Nash, Iowa; Mrs. Eugene H. Kelly, North Carolina; Mrs. Charles H. McMahon, Florida; Mrs. J. C. McKnight, Louisiana; Mrs. H. L. Kiefer, Nebraska.

An aftermath of the biennial session was a charming reception and military drill at Fort Thomas and Newport given in honor of visitors. The Kentucky Federation obtained special permission from the government to show this courtesy to the National Federation officers and members of the board.

On Tuesday afternoon a reception was given by the Cincinnati D. A. R. to all visiting members of the American Chapters at Hotel Stinson. Many banners and large silk flags owned by the local order were used in decoration.

There were between 3,000 and 4,000 women in attendance at the General Federation meeting, from all over the country, making a dignified and representative body, whose influence for good will be far reaching. The social features of the convention were brilliant and the entertainment of so great an assemblage was remarkably managed. On the opening evening, Tuesday, May 10, the Ohio Federation complimented the delegates with a grand symphony concert at Music Hall, and on Wednesday afternoon, May 11, the Ohio Federation, of which Mrs. Addison Bromhall is president, gave a handsome reception at the Shinton. Mrs. Lawrence Maxwell, of Cincinnati, chairman of the Local Board of the Cincinnati, was very prominent in all the convention affairs, and to her and to the president of the Ohio Federation were due much of the brilliant success of the convention. On Thursday evening the citizens of Cincinnati entertained the several thousand delegates with a boat excursion on the Ohio, two large steamers being chartered for the occasion. A supper was served on the boats, and there was music and other features, including a superb display of fireworks, one of the handiwork ever given in this country, during the river trip back to Cincinnati. On Saturday the delegates were entertained at two beautiful receptions, one at the Woman's Club and another at the Country Club. To those all the delegates were taken in private automobiles and conveyances, and this feature alone demonstrated the extensive and beautiful entertainment offered the club women by the hospitable women of Cincinnati. One notable feature of the biennial was a dinner of the covers, given at one of the clubs by Mrs. William Belmont, of New York, for the pioneer women workers of the General Federation. This dinner was a very beautiful and interesting occasion, and the personnel of the guest list was most distinguished.

COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHT

Mrs. Gertrude Sumner, of Carey, Idaho, Describes Her Painful Experience and Final Recovery.

Carey, Ida.—"I began by being troubled with internal pains," writes Mrs. Sumner, of this city, "and got so I could hardly sit up or walk, I grew worse and could not sleep at night, so I told my husband I would die, if there wasn't something done for me. He sent for some Cardui, and I began to take it. I seemed better right away, and now I am so much better than I have been for some time. I believe if it had not been for Cardui, I would now be dead."

No sick or ailing woman can fail to be interested in the experience of others, particularly when their stories give her hope, as the above should give you.

Cardui is a purely vegetable, medicinal, harmless, non-intoxicating, and perfectly reliable, tonic remedy. Over a million women have been benefited by its use.

Cardui will carry you over the rough places, ease your hard days, and increase the comfort and pleasure of living.

CHANGE OF NAME TO BE VOTED ON

WILL COME UP AT NEXT GENERAL CONFERENCE.

Bishop Hoss and Bishop Marshall Head the Newly Elected Board of Education.

THE CUMBERLAND ASSEMBLY.

Asheville, N. C., May 21.—Some of the new bishops presided for the first time since their ordination at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and each presided with a grace and dignity pleasing to the delegates and visitors. The debates on the question of the change of name took up the greater part of both the morning and afternoon sessions. Gray-haired veterans pleaded that the name be kept as it is. Others thought that it was time to do away with sentiment and give the church a name which would be most acceptable to the congregations in the west.

The measure adopted at this morning's session to change the name of the church to the Methodist church was voted at this afternoon's session by the college of bishops. Later the conference voted to change the name to the Methodist Episcopal church in America and requested the bishops, as it is a constitutional question, to allow the annual conference to vote on the question. Not until the next general conference can the name be legally changed. If by a three-fourths vote the members of the annual conference they endorse the change. It is being predicted that the church at large will not accept the change, and equally confident are the delegates who favor the change that the conference will support them.

The committee on education nominated the new board of education and the committee on publishing interests named a new publishing board, both of which were elected by the conference. The name of Bishop E. E. Hoss was the first on the board of education.

Rev. E. H. DeWitt, the conference host, was presented with a hand some came by the delegates and an invitation was read by the mayor of Asheville asking the conference to return four years hence.

Rev. R. F. Campbell, president of the North Carolina Lord's Day Alliance of the United States, briefly addressed the conference.

The report recommending that $10,000 be appropriated for special articles in the Nashville Christian Advocate during the next four years was adopted.

The report of the committee on missions, co-ordinating the various departments heretofore separate, was adopted.

A resolution was adopted requesting the bishops to have annual conferences vote in the year 1913 whether or not the name of the church should be changed to the Methodist Episcopal Church in America. An aye and nay vote was called for, the result of which was 159 for and 63 against.

Cumberland Assembly.

Dickson, Tenn., May 21.—Because of the weather conditions several sessions of the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly were held indoors, the big meeting tent being abandoned for the more secure though somewhat crowded church building. The report of the stated clerk presented at the morning session showed seventy-six presbyteries represented by 160 delegates. As to visitors it is estimated that 2,000 are in attendance.

Two gavel, hewn from timber found on the site of the McAdow cabin, the two-room log structure where the church was organized 100 years ago, were tendered to the assembly today, presented by Rev. Nathan T. Gill, of Los Angeles, Cal., whose tenure of clergyship extends over half a century. One was whittled into shape by "Uncle Hickory" Smith, an aged church sexton of Dickson. The gavel will share honors during the assembly sessions.

Rev. J. T. Barbee, retiring moderator, who was taken ill while delivering his concluding address as moderator, yesterday, was somewhat improved this morning, but he is still unable to leave his apartments.

The reading of memorials and the disposal of routine matters occupied the entire morning session, which ended shortly after noon. At the start the prearranged program was discarded and the rules of procedure approved by the general assembly of 1901 substituted. Evansville was finally placed as a bidder for the next assembly. A memorial from the Indiana presbytery, among other communications were several with regard to the policy of the several denominational publications.

Zack Harris Goes Free.

On a charge of bootlegging, Zack Harris, colored, of Mayfield, who was brought here yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Neel, was tried before U. S. Commissioner W. A. Gardner yesterday afternoon and acquitted. The trial of L. Oliver, colored, of Seabolt, on the same charge, was continued until June 3, in order that the necessary witnesses may be summoned.

Wagon Circus Coming.

For the first time in many a day a wagon circus will exhibit in Paducah. The first advance wagon of the Lulu show arrived in Paducah yesterday afternoon and the advance agents were as busy as the representatives of the big shows in preparing for the visit. The show will play a number of the towns in McCracken county not bothered by the larger shows.

Daily Thought.

Who shall despair while the fields of earth are sown with flowers and the fields of heaven blossom with stars?—Hamilton Wright Mable.

Roosevelt sat at a table with nine kings yesterday. Wotcheno about that for openers?

CONSISTENCY.

Consistency is a rare jewel; but if it is properly cut, a skillful manipulator can turn its facets so as to emit all the colors of the rainbow in succession. Nothing delights our simple mind and unsophisticated eye more than to see a lawyer hold the spark white, then red, then purple and then green. One might imagine he held samples of all the different precious stones in the universe in his hand; but it is the same jewel, yet ever changing hue to suit the purpose of him who holds it. All of which reminds us, that the attorney general at San Francisco stopped a six-round boxing match because it is a prize fight; but he cannot stop the fight to a finish between Jeffries and Johnson, because it is a boxing match.

BETTER THAN A STRIKE.

Better and more effective than a strike is the move the Federation of Labor is making against the Steel Trust. By carefully prepared data, alleging violations of the Sherman anti-trust law and the most hideous disregard of the rights of man and human life, the federation has started the department of commerce and labor on the track of the big concerns, and the department has furnished the government a report, that indicates a situation in the big steel mill towns, which threatens the very foundations of our social order: excessive hours of work at inadequate wages; employment of children in unhealthy work at starvation pay; employment of women in work unsuited for them; housing of employees in unsanitary property belonging to the companies; stockpiling of men, and practical imprisonment of injured men in company hospitals, where they can not secure legal redress for wrongs of personal injuries—these are some of the conditions set forth in the report.

Those, who believe the centralization of authority makes for paternalism in government, and the organization of workers makes for socialism, have but to look at the effectiveness with which the federal executive departments work to the end of securing justice, and the initiative manifested by the federation in looking after its own interests in this case, to be satisfied that neither is deadening in its influence on the initiative and individuality.

A department of health will be but another instrumentality by which the federal government can enforce rules of humanity, and secure what the Declaration of Independence pledges, the right of every man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Arbitration boards and the interstate commerce commission are two other instruments that are accomplishing good. These are encouraging signs.

The man, who says industrial peace and undisturbed confidence would be better secured if the government did not mix into these affairs, is dangerously short sighted. A virile people will not suffer wrong; if the spirit of the framers of the Declaration is alive today, people must say when governments become destructive of human rights then governments should be abolished. These executive agencies for probing into and correcting social and industrial evils may cause dissatisfaction among the subjects of their investigation; but whether the subjects of them know it or not, the probe, uncomfortable as it may feel in the wound, is the instrument of their salvation, and without this discovery and correction of evil, anarchy and social ruin would follow, as sure as the night follows the day.

SHALL WE DICTATE PEACE OR BEG FOR IT?

Agitation for international peace and the court of arbitration with well defined authority to enforce its mandates, backed by the moral support of the nations, party to the compact, will meet with no opposition from any source; but the proposition to disarm must be coupled with a feasible plan for policing the world by the civilized nations. With Japan in the Pacific, burning for territorial expansion and threatening the integrity of China, as well as our own island possessions; with China arming a horde of mixed races that may some day be the controlling factor in Asia; the warlike Mohammedans in Southeastern Europe and Northern Africa always at enmity with the white man, and the buccaneer presidents of Latin-America ready to enlist under any black flag that promises prize money; to talk of America, England, Germany and France breaking up their ships and making sewer pipe of their 13-inch guns, is the folly of the age. Our civilization must be protected, as well as extended; and at present our big guns are the only ambassadors we can send which speak Esperanto.

It is not wildly extravagant to dream of the day, soon to come, when the civilized nations of Europe and America will quit building great navies; will enter into compact and divide the high seas for the purpose of policing them, jointly influencing the lesser races against aggressive measures, preventing turbulence and holding open the ports of the orient to the trade of the world. Under such circumstances the open door, and fair play will be assured; the European nations will not be so arbitrary and officious in their attitude toward their neighbors, and their word will bear the stamp of sincerity, because the extended hand will not carry a sword or the uniform of diplomacy conceal a coat of mail.

Japan can not, however, be expected to rush in to any such arrangement, and until she does, America cannot afford to expose her Pacific coast to Japanese artillery. Japan has an ambition to emulate the Monroe doctrine on the Asiatic coast; she is suspicious of her big white brothers; she is puffed up with the spirit of conquest.

On the other hand, there are influences at work, which will bring about favorable conditions to international disarmament sooner than we expect. Not the least of these is the oppressive war tax in times of peace. Another is the spread of education and enlightenment. In times of war and great public excitement people undertake the burdens of militarism with enthusiasm and glory in their share of it; but when the excitement is over, and they seek such pleasures as the humdrum times of peace afford, they demand more for their personal comfort; taxes become oppressive; the figures in the national budget appall them. Then it is they see great ships built, only to go out of date and be supplanted by still other larger and more costly armament, and they writhe under the load. Education but makes them writhe the more, and presently they murmur; their murmurs grow into a protest, their protests become a concert and the sound of their voices inspires them to revolt. And that is what will happen in Japan, and in all of Europe. In the meantime, we can build with them, ship for ship, and have money left when they are bankrupt. Let us talk peace to them and build a navy big enough to blow their ships out of the water. A big man can accomplish more good dictating peace, than a little man can begging for it.

LIKE UNTO LITTLE CHILDREN.

The board of health asked us to remind the residents and property owners of the city that Monday is Clean-Up Day, and to request them to clean their premises. It is a delicate task, and we are glad we do it anonymously. We would hesitate to insult by the suggestion, those who keep clean all the time, and we dislike to waste the energy on those who prefer to remain dirty.

If it were not for the fact that in a crowded community no man can live unto himself, we would be of a mind to permit those, who like that sort of thing, to remain happy and contented in their filth, extracting what measure of satisfaction they may out of their condition, and bearing what public contumely is their portion as a result of the spectacle they present. But we realize that there is a kind of dirt we have been educated to consider wholesome, and which medical science is fighting almost single handed to eradicate. There is the common house-fly, for long considered a scavenger, but recently learned to be an enemy of mankind—a native of the manure pile, who carries into the air not only the filth of his habitat, but also myriads of germs, which he deposits in the food as it is being prepared in the kitchen, or devoured in the dining-room. The very first step in his annihilation is a change of name. The cognomen "house-fly" gives him rank among the domestic animals, and indicates that he is entitled to the protection of mankind; whereas he is, if not the actual villain on the everyday drama, at least, the tool of the villainous germs, and entitled to no consideration. Having given him the name his nativity deserves, it becomes incumbent on us to dispose of the stable refuse, and when this is gone, the fly will disappear. It is to be hoped that the medical fraternity soon will give us a preparation which can be spread in the stable to kill the spawn of the fly.

The garbage can should be covered, that the fly may not find a subsistence.

The weeds should be cut before the first of June, as they are disease breeders, and if cut before June 1 they will not go to seed. Every man owes this obligation to the community.

It seems strange that we must have the health authorities constantly dining into our ears the necessity for keeping clean and taking precautionary measures against illness. We complain much that our children have constantly to be forced to do simple things for their own welfare, and by force prevented from doing themselves harm, but parents who neglect these simple precautions for the protection of themselves, their children and their neighbors, would do well to hesitate about criticizing the youngsters who, perhaps, are closely following copy.

Some Stories Around the Town.

Many Paducahans last evening saw Halley's comet, which appeared in the western sky immediately after sun set, several degrees above the horizon and slightly to the north of where the sun set. No tail was visible, but the comet was quite brilliant and made an irregular blur several times the magnitude of the largest fixed star. It may be the brightness of the moon obscured the tail, but scientists at the Yerkes observatory report that they found no tail last night, which indicates that the earth has passed the comet. Whether we went through the tail is still a question over which they are in doubt. The Lick observatory reports a brilliant tail. The comet will continue to climb higher and higher into the evening sky from now on, and when the moon waxes it will present a magnificent spectacle.

On his first visit here in twelve years Mr. E. D. Palmer, of Jackson, Miss., arrived yesterday for a visit to his brother, Mr. L. P. Palmer and other relatives here and at Benton. Mr. Palmer, who is in charge of a mail car of the Illinois Central railroad, tells a thrilling tale of his close call to death in a wreck near Jackson about four weeks ago. Several people were killed or burned to death and Mr. Palmer escaped from the mail car through a hole. His head was injured and his left side wrenched. He will visit here several days before returning to Jackson.

With two of the fastest motor boats on the Mississippi river, Bud Quarles, who is owner of the new fast boat "Dan Patch," will contest at Memphis, Tenn., about June 10. The race will be over a course of 30 miles, 15 miles up stream and 15 miles down stream. The other boats will be the "Blue Jay" and the "Yankee Girl." Mr. Quarles has the fastest boat in the local harbor, local motor boat fans say, and they expect him to trim the Memphis boats. His new boat has four cylinders. At present the engine is at the factory. Owing to some slight trouble the engine failed to start properly and Mr. Quarles shipped it to the factory for slight alterations. The engine will be returned about June 1. The race was arranged by Walter Wilkins, a Paducah boy, now in Memphis. He heard the boasts of the Memphis boat owners, and knowing the speed of Mr. Quarles' boat, arranged the race. The "Dan Patch" is 32 feet long with the engine capable of developing 25-horse power. The "Yankee Girl" is 26-horse power and a shorter boat, while the "Blue Jay" has engines capable of 50-horse power, but is a larger boat than the other crafts entered in the race. The result of the race will be watched with interest as a large silver cup will be awarded the winner.

The evidence in the trial indicated that it was Perrier who originally suggested the undesirability of Prilukoff as the assassin, his relations with the countess being so well known that, in case of his arrest, suspicion would probably fall upon La Tarnowska. Nannoff was mentioned as a suitable substitute. The countess sent for him and started back toward Russia in his company. A bogus telegram was prepared, according to the evidence, by Prilukoff and Perrier, but signed with Nannoff's name, in which the most insulting references were made both to Nannoff and La Tarnowska. This telegram was delivered to the couple on the road. The countess had in the meantime been working on Nannoff's jealousy and, though most unwillingly, he agreed to kill his friend, Karamowsky. The two accordingly returned to Vienna. The countess stopped there. Nannoff went on to Venice. Prilukoff followed him, intending to betray him to the police as soon as the murder was committed. It is not clear whether he wished to do this as a means of ridding himself of both Karamowsky and Nannoff as rivals for the countess' affections or whether he acted under orders from the count

WOMAN'S CLUB FOR CLEANING UP TOWN

The impression of one who has been absent from Paducah for nearly a year, is that there has been an immense improvement in cleanliness and order, as well as a great advance in the general tendency to beautify the streets and yards and open spaces.

It is pleasant and comparatively easy to start a new movement—the difficulty is to sustain it. It is well, therefore, that the health department reminds us that we are to have a cleaning up day, and that we need it for the sake of the health of the whole community. We are expected to and shall gladly assist in getting rid of all that is offensive and unsightly in or around our premises, but the greatest benefit to the city would be a resolution on the part of everyone to keep everything neat and clean all the time.

Trash boxes have been conveniently placed on the corners of the streets—yet banana peeling, and paper are often negligently scattered along the pavements. Cannot the children especially help by never throwing refuse of any kind around and persuading their companions to observe this rule? Should not the back premises of every home be at least as clean as the front yard; and the alleys kept as free from old cans, rags and paper as the streets? Fences have been generally taken down, but old posts, dead trees, unsightly bill boards and weeds disfigure many spots which could be made pleasant to the eye, or at least detract from the beauty of a neighboring place where flowers and shrubs and a well-kept lawn give pleasure to every passer-by.

Spring, this year, has been lavish with her tender frequent rains. We have thought her an almost feckless visitor, who withdrew her warm caresses as soon as they were given. Yet, her tardy footsteps have left in their wake a perfect wealth of beauty in the luxuriant green of grass and foliage. Rest and refreshment to weary bodies and spirits come as the eye rests upon these ungrudging gifts of nature. Shall we not do our part? Why should not our city be kept beautiful as well as healthy? The Civic Department of the Women's Club.

CITY'S FINANCES

not anticipated at the beginning of the year and without a cent appropriated for them or any consideration given them in the estimates of receipts and expenditures, the problem of finances becomes a speculation as to the amount of the deficit: City engineer's vault $400.
Extra city hall equipment $1,987.
Three apprentices $200 a month for seven months (probably).
Cost of intersections of the miles of sidewalks ordered built.
Thousand feet of fire hose.
George N. Bernhard settlement of sewer assessment $700.
Fire and patrol boxes.
Extra office help to take care of ten-year assessment plan of building streets and sidewalks.
Extra jail work $1,200.
Extra new fire station $2,000.
City hall extras $748.
Purchase of Tenth street property for boulevards, ($2,000, if options between Washington street and Kentucky avenue are executed. No one knows how much if more is bought).
The city has saved somewhat on the budget. Pay of firemen of new No. 5 station for six months; $5 extra for each policeman and fireman for three months, a saving on the interest by reason of redeeming bonds, and other items will relieve the situation to the extent of a few thousand dollars; but all the extras, which may aggregate as much as $25,000, appear before the fiscal year is half gone. Of course it is natural that much extra work should be ordered in the spring and it is not to be expected that the second half of the fiscal year will show anything like the appropriations of the first half; yet, every penny additional will but increase the deficit, almost certain to be incurred already.

Last His Citizenship.

New York, May 21.—The attempt to smuggle some jewelry and clothing from Europe has cost ex-Governor Hollins of New Hampshire, his citizenship, besides $500 in fines, according to the declaration of U. S. Attorney Wise here today. Wise explained the new federal law operative since last January, which made smuggling a felony, and said the man is deprived of his citizenship if the crime carries with it a prison sentence, and Hollins could have been given a prison sentence. President Taft can restore citizenship.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The skin is composed of two distinct layers. One is known as the epidermis, or outer skin, which has no fibres, and serves principally as a covering to the body, and a protection from outward dangers to the delicate flesh beneath. The other layer is known as the dermis, or true skin, and is composed of elastic fibres, fat tissue, glands, lymphatics, nerves, etc. The thousands of tiny veins and arteries with which it is interlaced constantly supply every fibre and tissue with healthful properties from the circulation to keep the skin smooth and perfect.

This is changed, however, when the blood becomes infected with humors, acids or impurities. Instead of constantly supplying rich, nutritive properties to the skin, the circulation deposits the acid impurity with which it is contaminated, into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes irritation and inflammation, which splits or breaks the thin outer cuticle, while the tissues beneath ulcerate and discharge upon the surface in the form of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, etc. There is likewise a dry form of skin diseases, such as Acne, Psoriasis, etc. In these varieties the humor in the blood diseases and inflames the glands, hair follicles, etc., causing them to swell and protrude to the outer surface. Pimples, rashes, eruptions and like troubles, are all dependent on imperfect blood, and no one can have a good complexion, free from humiliating blemishes, unless the skin is kept healthy by good blood.

S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to normal strength, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated, inflamed and diseased by acid impurities or fiery humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by a cooling, healthy stream of blood. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

S.S.S. CURED HER.

Some time ago I was troubled with a severe skin affection called Acne. Small pimples would appear on my face and neck, which would in time fester and become inflamed. My complexion was sallow and sad, and most unattractive. I had read about S.S.S., and concluded to give it a trial; the result was entirely satisfactory. My complexion soon became clear, and my skin became soft and smooth. I cannot too highly recommend S.S.S. to any who are likewise afflicted.

MURDER SUSPECT EFFECTS ESCAPE

TWO JAILBREAKERS STILL AT LIBERTY.

Other Two Captured as They Were Getting Away on Freight Train.

DUG THROUGH PRISON WALL.

In less than two hours, two of the four negroes who escaped from the county jail yesterday afternoon were recaptured and were behind the bars again. The men were Dan, alias "Bad Eye" Williams, charged with false swearing, and Manuel Miller, wanted at Clarksville, Tenn., and they were nabbed by Jake Roush, detective for the Illinois Central railroad, aboard a northbound freight train. John Wiggin, charged with murder, and Walter Williams, charged with malicious cutting, are still at liberty.

The prisoners escaped by digging a hole through the west wall of the jail, and it was discovered just in the nick of time or all of the prisoners would have been at liberty. A piece of an old life was used to pick the mortar from between the bricks, until the last layer of bricks was reached, when the prisoners used a sawing to complete the hole. Four prisoners equipped through the opening, but the fifth was stopped at the point of a pistol by Deputy Jailor Walter Carter.

Carter Just In Time.

Carter had just passed through the jail yard about two minutes before the hole was made. He had reached the front of the jail when notified that a prisoner had scaled the concrete wall surrounding the jail. Quickly rushing around to the west wall he saw a hole, and the fifth prisoner coming out. Guarding the hole a minute he picked up the prisoner who had just escaped, while the remaining prisoners were locked in their cells.

The prisoners worked on the hole for some time yesterday, and when the jailer passed around the corridor it was concealed by a pair of overalls hung over the loose bricks. After reaching the ground the negroes climbed up a ladder used by painters and jumped from the wall. They ran up the alley between Sixth and Seventh streets. Deputy Jailor Carter was alone at the jail at the time and could not give chase, because the remaining prisoners had to be locked in their cells. The police were notified and Jake Roush searched an outgoing freight train. He discovered "Bad Eye" Williams and Miller, and at the point of a pistol forced the two negroes to dismount from the moving train. When returned to the jail Williams became unruly and he was forced to enter a cell at the point of a pistol. Already he has served two terms in the state penitentiary, and if convicted of false swearing, doubtless will be sent up for a life term.

Miller was arrested yesterday morning as a fugitive, being wanted in Clarksville, Tenn., for larceny. Chief of Police J. R. Robinson arrived last night to take him back, and was pleased that his prisoner was recaptured. Dan Williams is said to be the leader that dug the hole through the wall. Little trace could be found of John Wiggin, who killed Walter Scott on Broadway near Maiden alley several months ago, and Walter Williams. They separated from the other two prisoners.

Mechanical Evolution of a Farm

One of the most interesting farm nights in Michigan, and one that typifies the steady evolution of means of conveyance and power from the day of the ox to the present day of the automobile, can be seen on the land of William Doubleday, a few miles south of Hattie Creek. But, strange as it may seem, the oxen, mules and horses were not put out of commission, and all are still in active service along with the automobile, as is also the hand-pushed wheelbarrow. —Credit.

WORLD'S SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

THE REV. G. W. BANKS IS ATTENDING IT.

Will Enjoy Reunion Tonight With Those Who Met in Jerusalem in 1901.

SOME GREAT SPEECHES MADE.

Washington, May 21.—The world's sixth Sunday school convention met in the Assembly Hall, Washington city, May 19, at 2:30 p. m. with at least 4,000 delegates and as many visitors in their places. Those delegates came from more than 50 nations. The spirit of brotherhood was apparent from the start.

The large audience rose and sang "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?" After which "Old Coronation" was sung by the great audience. Prayer was offered in behalf of heretofore Great Britain in the loss of her king, Edward, Bishop Cranston, of the M. E. church, read Deut. XII and St. John I.

Many familiar faces were on the platform, such as E. O. Excell, leader of the music, Joseph Clark, A. H. McCallie, E. K. Warren, George W. Bailey, W. G. Pearson. These men are giving their time and money to taking care of the child-life of the world.

Dr. F. H. Meyer took for a text from Psalm VIII. The speaker said in part: "As we raise our eyes upon hills and dale we are compelled to say 'How great is Thy name in all the earth!' The heavens become a 'milky way' as we look at the vastness of God's creation. The rain of water whose stream charges the sun light with life is beautiful. The and verse is big but man is great; The smallest child that has just begun to breathe is greater than a universe of material matter."

"Jesus Christ put a child in the midst of his disciples in the midst of the home when he wished to suggest greatness. We can no longer stand between Christ and the child." "Christ discovered the child." The apostle reads "Who is Man?" The Psalmist reads "What is Man?" There is something in man, something in the little girl that says her prayers at your knees that is immortal and imperishable.

There are two types of religion; one is of letters, dotting every i and crossing every T; another is of heart, the religion of the child. Take the religion of the heart and therefore that of the child. It matters but little what your text may be, if it will win.

In order to secondly our work in its fullest we need only three things: 1, the child, 2, the teacher, 3, the spirit of Christ. With these I close. Take the child into confidence, but take him as he is. Teach him, and again I say, teach him. Teach him to look higher than himself; possess the spirit of that yourself and see to it that the child also shall understand what it is to have such a spirit."

Dr. F. H. Meyer, of Richmond, is president of the world's Sunday convention and a preacher of great power, a man of about 74 years of age. He has been making a tour of America for several months speaking in many cities.

Marion Lawrence read the chairman's address, which was an elaborate review of the five preceding conventions and what has been accomplished by visits to the mission fields and an examination of the conditions of child life in the Orient.

A social occasion will be the reunion of the Jerusalem party. Those of the delegates that attend the fourth convention, which met in Jerusalem in May, 1904. I was fortunate enough to be one of these. The reunion will be held this evening.

G. W. BANKS.

CURING A COLD IN CAMP.

Taking "cold" is a very popular camp method of feeling bad. The man who does not at least once while in camp, stuff himself full of a good old-fashioned "cold" feels that he has been cheated out of a part of the enjoyment of his outing. For the benefit of those of his companions who do not appreciate his "barking" in season and out, the following rules are suggested: First, take a bath; it may be painful but necessary. Second, assist overworked eliminators to remove the debris that has accumulated by reason of the failure of the ordinary processes of waste removal.

This can be done very nicely with a heroic dose of calomel; by heroic about three grains is meant. Follow up the calomel with several five grain doses of phenacetine, or until the patient is in a profound perspiration, roll him in warm blankets and await developments. A careful observance of the foregoing will annihilate any also-boded "cold" on earth.—Dr. Charles Stewart Moody in June Outing.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Increases the price of many necessities without improving the quality. Foley's Honey and Tar maintains its high standard of excellence and its great curative qualities without any increase in cost. It is the best remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and all ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. The genuine is in a yellow package. Beware of substitutes.—Gilbert's Drug Store.

At Last,

"Yes, living machines will be great for painters." "Why painters? They are a staid and sober race of men, never taking anything save fidelity of fancy." "But what a fine thing it will be when they have to follow copy out of the window."

In Admirably.

Hotels, according to an article in the Hotel World, should be provided with portable dog kennels to be re would be about four feet long and of a width that would allow it to go through the door of a room. The upper part should be covered open provided with broad-thread canvas.

DIPLOMAT IN BOWERY CENSUS

NOW LOCATED IN CHEAP BOW
ERY LODGING HOUSE.

Enumerators Are Anticipating Soon
New York City's Homeless Population.

ONCE U. S. FOREIGN MINISTER.

New York, May 21.—That a man who was formerly United States min ister to a foreign country is now living hidden away in a Bowery lodging house, is one of the strange revelations of the census taker in this city. Also he is the census of ficials will not tell, although they have made special inquiries which they say convince them of the truth of his story.

Mr. Falck, chief inspector, was telling a Herald reporter yesterday of the work in the bowery and lower East Side when he mentioned the man who had been a diplomat.

"There is every evidence that he is no ordinary man," said Mr. Falck.
"It was his bearing and manner that led to questions that brought out some of his earlier history. He has been unfortunate, that's all."

"But he is not the only one we have found who has dropped from a high place to obscurity. I am astounded at the character of some of the men we found in these lodg ing houses. Many are well edu cated; some have wonderful records of drilling interest. No one knows of the tragedies and heart breaking ex periences that he buried in the lodg ing houses."

"We found men who had been prosperous and in big business en terprises. Sudden reverses and un looked for misfortunes overwhelmed them and left them stranded. Some have been theologians of note. Some writers of books, others poets and men of renown in their part of the world. I can say that a lot of these men have been all they say, and their stories can be proved, but of course not a word can be revealed as to their identity."

Work Is Satisfactory.
Third avenue last night was highly satisfactory. Think of visiting three hundred lodging houses in a single night and getting the necessary in surance from the thousands of inmates before morning! You see, we had to get them fully awake; enough to make them comprehend what we wanted and what they must do. The foreigners were the slowest in un derstanding that they must tell all about themselves whether they wanted or not.

"We are under great obligations to the lodging house keepers for helping us get the names and other data of the thousands of inmates.
The city authorities were also prompt in their assistance, for we found policemen present to help out and make arrests in cases of trouble.
As a rule there is little difficulty in getting the required information when once the lodgers understood what was wanted."

"Only five of our enumerators have resigned so far. Three of those had certificates from physicians and the others looked quite unfit for the work. Judging from reports thus far turned in by the enumerators, they are an able lot of men—in my opinion the best that have ever yet been employed in the census ser vice."

It is predicted that some rare specimens of human nature will be countersunk next week when Mr.
Falck, with a corps of enumerators, will count the homeless men and women in the parks and bread lines of the city.

"It will be a novel experience, but it is a part of our census work," said Mr. Falck. "It will be no small task to round up all the men found at night sitting in the parks, sleeping in doorways and standing in the bread lines up and down town. We shall have a special force on the job and make what we call a special enu meration of the men supposed to be homeless and practically unknown to the world."

Practical jokers had their fling at the census in the advance tours yesterday. Some of the questions and answers were: "What is your profession?" "A bank burglar."
"Where do you live?" "In prison most of the time." "Are you for eign born?" "Yes." "What coun try?" "New Jersey." "Are you able to speak English?" "Yes, when no policeman are around." "Do you work on your own account?" "Ask the warden at Sing Sing."

William Lieberman, census su pervisor of the Second census district received a handsome gold badge yester day morning from the members of his working staff, as a token of their esteem. The presentation took place in his office at No. 180 Montague street, Brooklyn.

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out.
Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in tur quoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, sauce or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed —and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—use the name—plate
reads "New Perfection."

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove orna mental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Dum's Review.

New York, May 21.—R. G. Dum &
Co.'s weekly review of trade says:
The trade movement, taking the country as a whole, continues large.
That there is in all the markets, and particularly in this case, in the security market, much disappoint ment that the extravagant expecta tions at the beginning of the year are not being fulfilled, is beyond question, and this feeling results in a very conservative attitude on the part of both traders and consumers.
There is a feeling among some that conditions inseparable from a period of world-wide political and economic transition may be forcing some im portant readjustment and the dispo sition is to wait for developments.

Sentiment in iron and steel is more optimistic, as a result of a broader demand for finished prod ucts, accompanied by increased in terest in pig iron. While improve ment in the latter division is by no means marked, consumers show greater willingness to cover their requirements, inquiry being stimu lated by the low prices quoted, and most producers refuse to make fur ther concessions. New business has come forward most freely in the east. Conditions appear more favor able in finished steel lines now that the railroads and agricultural in terests have resumed active buying of needed equipment. Good orders for rolling stock have been received, and while demand for rails is chiefly for small lots, the aggregate ton nage taken is of quite large volume.

The small measure of improve ment in the demand for cotton goods and yarns is maintained and some small advances are being paid, but prices are still so unsatisfactory that entailment of production is increas ing in cloth and yarn. Export busi ness to the far east is dull, but the movement to Australia and Manila of late has been fair. Light weight men's wear is being offered at low figures from first hand to reduce stocks. On the whole, the tone of the textile markets is better than a week ago.

Trade in footwear continues very quiet and the lack of fresh business is more marked. It is not a ques tion of price so much as a general feeling of conservatism, pending more definite views regarding the future. There is some trading in leather, and occasional large sales are effected. The best feature of the market is the export demand.

Are You Getting What Is Due You?

Among Investment Securities Generally Recognized as Conservative, the 8% Stock of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company Stands at the Very Top

Why are certain securities on the Stock Exchange List regarded as conservative for investment purposes?

Because they give the highest returns possible consistent with safety to the investor.

In any investment there are two things to consider—the rate of interest and the degree of safety. Generally speaking, the lower the rate of interest the higher the degree of safety, and vice versa.

Beyond a certain point in returns, investing ends and speculating begins.

Investing assures reasonable profit—with minimum risk.

Speculating promises larger profits—but entails greater risk.

If you cannot afford to lose, you will do well to choose for investment those securities whose perfect combination of profit and safety entitle them to be classed as "conservative."
